THE COMET.

Apropos to the occasion, we reproduce the following choice bit of verse, from the pen of one of our most gifted poets, Oliver Wendell Holmes:

The comet! he is on his way,
And singing as he flies;
The whizzing planets shrink before
The spectre of the skies.
Ah, well may regal orbs burn blue,
And satellites turn pale,—
Ten million cubic miles of head,
Ten billion leagues of tail!

On, on by whistling spheres of light,
He flashes and he flames:
He turns not to the left or right,
He asks them not their names.
One spurn from his demoniac heel—
Away, away they fly,
Where darkness might be bottled up
And sold for "Tyrian dye."

And what would happen to the land,
And how would look the sea,
If in the bearded devil's path
Our earth should chance to be?
Full hot and high the sea would boil,
Full red the forests gleam;
Methought I saw and heard it all
In a dyspeptic dream!

I saw a tutor take his tube
The comet's course to spy;
I heard a scream,—the gathered rays
Had stewed the tutor's eye!
I saw a fort,—the soldiers all
Were armed with goggles green;
Pop cracked the guns! Whiz flew the balls!
Bang went the magazine!

I saw a poet dip a scroll
Each moment in a tub;
I read upon the warping back,
"The Dream of Beelzebub."
He could not see his verses burn,
Although his brain was fried,
And ever and anon he bent
To wet them as they dried.

I saw the scalding pitch roll down
The cracking swathing pines,
And streams of smoke, like water-spout,
Burst through the rumbling mines.
I asked the firemen why they made
Such noise about the town;
They answered not, but all the while
The brakes went up and down.

I saw a roasting pullet sit
Upon a baking egg;
I saw a cripple scorch his hand
Extinguishing his leg.
I saw nine geese upon the wing
Towards the frozen pole;
And every mother's gosling fell
Crisped to a crackling coal.

I saw the ox that browsed the grass
Writhe in the blistering rays,
The herbage in his shrinking jaws
Was all a fiery blaze.
I saw huge fishes, boiled to rags,
Bob through the bubbling brine;
And thoughts of supper crossed my soul,—
I had been rash at mine.

Strange sights! Strange sounds! O fearful dream!
Its memory haunts me still;
The steaming sea, the crimson glare
That wreathed each wooded hill.
Stranger, if through thy reeling brain
Such midnight visions sweep,
Spare, spare, O spare thy evening meal,
And sweet shall be thy sleep!

NOTES OF TRAVEL NO. 3.

White Sulphur Springs—Contemplated Railroad—Strawberry Patch—Grasshoppers—Rattlesnakes' Paradise.

In company with Mr. Edgar Steele, your correspondent had the pleasure of visiting what are rapidly becoming the "famed" Newsom Springs. They are situated about twelve miles from San Luis, in a branch of the Cañon de Arroya Grande. They are commonly known as the White Sulphur Springs, and I have no doubt but they will, in a short time, rival the now noted springs of Paso Robles, the medicinal qualities of the two being equal, while the temperature of the Newsom Springs is much less than that of Paso Robles, it being 95°, while the latter is 110°. A railroad project is now being rapidly pushed forward from San Luis, running east through the San Luis Obispo valley to the Arroyo Grande, down the arroyo to the coast, thence south, entering the Guadalupe valley on the west, thus opening communication and assisting the development of one of the finest valleys in the State. This road will be about thirty miles in length, and as it is the intention to at once connect the present landing with San Luis, more than five hundred thousand acres of rich and fertile bottom lands will be at once thrown on the market.

GRASSHOPPERS.

Hitherto, Mr. Editor, I have confined myself entirely to the bright side of the picture. It would be a species of moral injustice not to present to your readers the dark side also. A very ancient historian records the fact that after the visit of the locusts in Egypt, "there remained not any green thing in the trees, or in the herbs of the field, through all the land," and it would seem as though the grasshoppers were endeavoring to fulfil the Scriptural quotation regarding the locusts. It is not an infrequent sight in San Luis (as I can bear witness) to see an Indian or a Chinaman busily engaged in the laudable occupation of "herding" grasshoppers. Parties in town, to prevent their little gardens from taking wings and bidding an affectionate farewell to their fond owners, keep a man walking around, armed with a brush to keep away the myriads of pests that there do congregate. This, I must confess, is not a particularly pleasing feature; but I am assured that with the cultivation of the soil this California plague will cease to be. Hasten the day when every nook and corner of this beautiful valley may become one vast field under cultivation.

STRAWBERRY PATCH

Is about eighteen miles southeast of San Luis, near the mouth of the Arroyo Grande creek. To the tourist who has an eye and an appetite for luxuries, the gathering of this luscious fruit is a pleasant occupation, although the sand hills surrounding the locality are not conducive to excessive happiness. In order to make sure that the strawberries may be found, I would recommend the searcher to employ a guide (permit me to recommend my friend Wm. Hemphill, Esq., of Steele's ranch). Among other curiosities that this charming region affords is what is known as Moro rock. It is situated about twelve miles west of San Luis, at the entrance to Moro bay, and is a huge rock, rising to a hight of five hundred feet above the sea and containing 230 acres, actual measurement. There is not the least sign of vegetable life throughout its entire extent, and silently, haughtily, it stands guard amid the wide sea of water, as though laughing to scorn the mighty force of the never-ceasing waves. It is said that every crevice conceals a rattlesnake, but how they came there "deponent saith not;" it is one of those wild, weird mysteries that San Luis Obispoans do not attempt to solve.

LASTLY.

This seems to be the place where intuition has reached (in the minds of the people) the superlative degree; and school teachers and school houses are voted an intolerable nuisance. The city (San Luis is incorporated) and school district of San Luis Obispo has about five hundred school children, and the unsightly building now used for school purposes will accommodate a little over one hundred students. Some visionary individuals conceived the idea that the mental and moral growth of the community would be more healthy, if suitable buildings were erected for the accommodation of all the school children. An election was held last Saturday, for the purpose of raising $10,000 by special tax, with which to build school houses. The promptness of the people in voting in the negative, convinces me of their extraordinary intuitive development. The rebuke was so severe that I think the aforesaid "Visionaries" will forever after hold their peace. Possibly, however, in time, a change will come over the spirit of their dreams; let us hope that the car of progress may yet roll this way, and effect a radical reformation of the abuses that are at present retarding the rapid growth of what I have no doubt will yet become one of the most desirable localities in the State.

"As time rolls on nous verons."

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, permit me through the columns of your journal to express my hearty thanks to Hon. Judge Steele and his amiable lady, and to E. W. Steele, for their bounteous hospitality to me during my brief but pleasant visit to San Luis Obispo.

HERALD.

July 2d, 1874.

A North Carolina Wonder.

From the Wilmington, N. C., Star.

At the house of a colored woman by the name of Mag. Bluthey, on the corner of Tenth and Wooster streets, there reside a colored man and his wife by the name of Fisher, who are the parents of a girl child about nine months old, who is certainly one of the greatest curiosities of the human species that we have ever heard or read of. Ex-Policeman William H. Harris, who visited the house on Sunday and examined the child, informs us that its skin is perfectly white, though its parents are both of a ginger-cake complexion. Its form and features are perfect up to the bridge of the nose; the chin, mouth and nasal organ being not only well formed, but really handsome in their symmetry and general appearance; but commencing with the eyes, the face and head has the appearance of an animal, more resembling a white bear than anything else of the animal species our informant could call to mind. The hair is of a whitish color and like the wool of a sheep. It eyes are round and piercing, resembling those of a mink, and revolve in their sockets in a very peculiar manner. They cannot bear the light of a lamp or candle, and are instantly closed when one is brought in the room, and are only kept open in the daytime when the room is somewhat darkened. It has no eyebrows, and the lid is of a peculiar formation, in no particular resembling the eyelid of a human being. It is very timid, and when anyone approaches it has the appearance and actions of a rabbit startled from its lair. Here is a fine field for those who make human nature in its various forms and peculiarities an object of study and analysis.

San Bernardino Items.

From the Guardian of July 4th.

Mr. Goodcell has just finished burning the largest brick-kiln ever burned in San Bernardino, containing 260,000 bricks. The bricks are of a splendid quality. Judging from their appearance, they are as impervious to water as rock.

On the residence of Mr. J. T. Wood, in Riverside, there is now a magnificent magnolia tree in full bloom. To those who have never seen this pride of the South, the beautiful and fragrant magnolia, in full bloom, it is well worth a ride to Riverside to see it.

A sad accident occurred on the Mountain road on Tuesday. A teamster named Nicholson was severely if not fatally injured. While descending the grade his wagon broke down, and he was thrown beneath it, as he thinks, though Dr. Cochrane thinks it did not pass over his body.

The Guardian strongly favors the construction of the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad via Cajon pass.

A very remarkable case of self-love at Athol, Massachusetts, is mentioned by the Boston Post. It is that of a lad who is literally, little by little, consuming himself. He is so much to his own taste that he takes large bites out of himself, and masticates bits of his own person. In four years he has reduced all the fingers on both hands to stumps, and he is now engaged upon the thumb of his left hand. Whatever may be the scarcity of his ordinary rations, that boy is provisioned for his lifetime.

Another Version.

A correspondent of the San Francisco Post, who signs himself "A Sojourning Brooklynite," writes as follows, June 29th:

The real truth of the Beecher-Tilton scandal I believe to be as follows: It was nothing more than an instance of misinterpretation between Beecher and Mrs. Tilton in the latter's parlor. Each thought the other intended more than was designed. I am thoroughly convinced that no criminal act ensued, and that each thought the other contemplated a wrong act, yet that none was designed by either. What followed? In a moment of communicativeness and vanity Mrs. Tilton told her husband what she supposed Beecher meant. In a fit of jealous rage Tilton then, as other husbands have often done before, made his wife confess more than was true. Beecher, with characteristic magnanimity, would not deny Mrs. Tilton's own version, but took all the blame to himself. Busybodies transformed a molehill into a mountain. This case should be a warning, if I rightly understand the facts, to wives not to fall in love with their pastors, and to pastors not to misinterpret the admiration of their worshiping female parishioners.

Wheat Fields Devastated.

A correspondent of the Stockton Independent, writing from Farmington, June 27th, says: "A fire broke out this afternoon which came near devastating the whole country around us. It started on the ranch of Philip Loney, through carelessness in burning weeds near the house. His whole 160 acres of wheat, which was in the stack was burned. The fire ran east and south over a large sheep range, owned mostly by Aug. Muller; then to the ranch of J. F. and N. Harrison, occupied by Wm. Campbell. The whole ranch (640 acres) was in grain, and three-fourths of it was destroyed. From here it caught in a field of railroad land, occupied by J. G. Schroder, and eighty acres of wheat was burned. The fire was stopped by back-firing from a road running north and south through Schroder's place. The yield of the greater part of the grain-fields burned over is estimated at an average of about twenty bushels to the acre. Had it not been for the fact that but little wind was blowing at the time, and from the almost superhuman efforts of at least three hundred persons, there is no knowing where it would have ended, for there is almost a continual wheat field for miles east and south. The extent burned over is four miles long and from one and a half to two miles wide.

Friedlander's annual grain circular, issued on the second instant, gives the following figures: "The total receipts of wheat, California, from July 1, 1873, to June 30, 1874, were 8,073,291 centals; of barley, 1,211,062 centals; of oats, 252,516 centals; of flour, 470,063 barrels. In addition we received from Oregon the following: Wheat, 385,430 centals; barley, 3,096 centals; oats, 146,027 centals; flour, 141,556 barrels, and 200,000 centals of wheat from Utah.

Our total receipts, therefore, foot up 8,658,721 centals of wheat, 1,214,158 centals of barley, 398,543 centals of oats, and 612,187 barrels of flour.

Our exports during the same period have been 7,289,278 centals of wheat, 599,109 centals of barley, 26,617 centals of oats, and 674,698 barrels of flour.

Of the exports of the past year, as recorded above, 13,607 centals of wheat, 362,028 centals of barley, 5,876 centals of oats, and 34,693 barrels of flour, were sent by rail to States and Territories east of the Sierra Nevadas, which have not heretofore been collated in the weekly exports.

CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

WEDNESDAY.....JULY 8, 1874.

Oil Excitement.

The oil excitement which spread over Pennsylvania some years ago is imitated to a certain degree in this valley. The oil-bearing regions near San Fernando is the objective point of hundreds who fancy they can see themselves the owners of numerous wells, each flowing streams of oil and gold notes. Within the past few days a new company has been organized and a number of new locations recorded. A great many, until now comparatively unnoticed springs, have been carefully examined by experts, and all pronounced the seepage from immense oil deposits. In the wells but recently commenced, oil has been found near the surface, and the quantity increases in volume as the wells increase in depth. It is predicted that within a very short time the aggregate yield of the oil region will exceed one thousand barrels per day. The indications are most favorable for flowing wells wherever work has been commenced. The Los Angeles Petroleum Refining Company are the owners of the only wells now throwing out oil, and this company will become the purchasers of all the crude oil taken from the district. They alone possess the secret of refining the oil by the CARRERAS process, and their refinery is now so far completed that the works will be in operation in a few days. The stock of the Refining Company is in great demand, and we understand they have sufficient funds in hand to place the refinery in active operation and meet the expense of the wells now being sunk. The petroleum business is rapidly developing into one of the most important industries of Los Angeles county.

A Waning Power.

The struggle growing out of the Local Option law has at least developed one fact upon which we had well nigh fallen in error. That is the humanizing and moralizing effect of women on elections. Only a little while ago we were all wont to expiate on the toning down effect that would be apparent when pretty girls and fascinating widows were permitted to elbow their way to the polls, with as much importance as the roughest-fisted miner or the richest banker in the land. When elections under Local Option were first held, the influence of pretty women was simply terrible. Old bummers who would die if not full of whisky, were actually charmed into voting for no-license, and men who like their cocktails better than they like going to church, walked between two angels to the ballot-box and dropped in a no-license ticket. This was all very fine at the beginning. It was a new sensation—a novelty—but man is proverbially inconstant, and he wearies of a new play almost as soon as a child tires of a new toy. In a little time—only a little time—the charm of female electioneering wore off and the citizen—he to whom has been delegated that inestimable right of the freeman, the ballot—began to talk about the duty of men, and the neglected duty of women. Now after less than six months of the new era, a thousand female angels hovering around a voting place produces no effect whatever beyond a disposition on the part of the lords of creation to sneer at the weaker vessels, and hint that they had better be at home with the babies. It must be admitted that female influence at the polls lasts only while the feature is new and fresh. The elections in San Jose and Alameda prove this, and also that a regiment of SALLIE HART'S and PITTS STEVEN'S have no influence over men's votes after their presence becomes an old story.

"THE Origin of Man" is the common text of lecturers and scientists. The subject does not possess any great amount of interest to the thinking biped. No one devotes a great deal of time and study to his origin. He may have sprung from a toadstool, or some other fungus growth, or his grandfather may have been a monkey or long-armed ape. It all amounts to nothing. He is here, and where he come from or how he made the trip is nothing to the question of the journey ahead and where he will finally land his craft. For ourself, we had much rather have some reliable information on where we shall go hereafter than whole volumes on our possible or probable origin. Never mind the origin, Mr. Philosopher, but turn your giant intellect on the problem of the hereafter. That has some interest, while the other is of no consequence whatever.

IN a case recently tried before him, Justice LAWRENCE, of the Supreme Court of New York, decided that the Bank of California has no legal existence as a corporation. The learned Dogberry held that trade and commerce did not include banking. He believed that buying and selling bullion and fine gold and silver was neither trade nor commerce. This decision may be a rough joke on the Bank of California, but it is a rougher one on Mr. Justice LAWRENCE.

THE San Francisco Examiner has entered on its nineteenth volume, and appears to grow in prosperity and wisdom. It is the ablest, most honest and most honorable Democratic newspaper published on the Pacific Coast.

An Unfortunate Vote.

It was unfortunate for the Pacific coast that SARGENT and JONES voted to confirm the nomination of SHEPARD, the President's favorite rascal. The action of SARGENT in this particular instance was to have been expected. It was in keeping with his general policy, and whatever else may be said of him, it cannot be denied that he is eminently consistent—consistent in a steady and unwavering opposition to every measure intended to defend the interests of the people against machinations of schemers whose sole object is the squandering of the public funds. It could not but be expected that SARGENT would vote to retain in power a man who, in an incredible short time, had managed to dispose of all the available funds of the District of Columbia and run the Government twenty millions in debt. But of JONES better things were hoped. His hands were clean. He had stood up bravely with LUTTRELL and other opponents of swindling schemes from the opening until almost the close of the session. The people had come to regard him as one of their most uncompromising champions; and to have him "fall down" at the close of the battle, when victory was almost theirs, has created a feeling of disappointment which it will take years of loyalty to remove. The Nevada Senator could not have been ignorant of the only too palpable fact that SHEPARD was totally unfit for the position to which the President had nominated him, and the only plausible excuse his friends can offer for him is the twin-brother affection and school-boy familiarity which grew up between him and the President during the session. In charity we must concede that it was the President's influence over the man, and not the man's judgment that compelled Senator JONES to vote for the confirmation of "Boss" SHEPARD.

Advertising as a Business.

With a business man, advertising is as much a business as any other part of his business. The same rule that governs his buying and selling, also governs his advertising. The rule with him is not to insert a column advertisement in the paper that will do it cheapest, but to insert it in the paper that will do him the most good—the paper that has not only the greatest number of readers, but among those the greatest number of that class of readers whose attention he desires to call to the articles he has for sale. No sensible man will advertise agricultural implements in BONNER'S Ledger. A tobacconist ought to have very little use for the advertising columns of the Christian Union. For the general advertiser, the paper having the cheapest advertising rates is seldom or never the one in which he receives the greatest return for the money. Twenty dollars may purchase a whole column for the space of a month in a paper, but when it is known that paper has only a circulation of two or three hundred and can only be found in third rate saloons and the waste paper baskets of those journals favoring it with an exchange, it will strike any shrewd business man that the twenty dollars was badly invested, and had better been one of five or six other twenties that went to pay for a column "ad" in a paper of considerable circulation and read by the entire community. The business man advertises where he can get the most for his money. To do this, he seeks the columns of the paper having the largest circulation among the people to whom he expects to sell his goods.

WE have heard a great deal about the rapid increase in the population of San Jose, and we have no doubt it is all true. In looking over the reports of the School Census Marshals we notice that this year San Jose has 1,968 children against 1,945 last year—a gain of twenty-three. This year Los Angeles has 2,462 children; last year she had 2,060—a gain of 402. If San Jose is improving rapidly Los Angeles must be improving most rapidly.

AN eastern paper says GRANT is the most indolent, luxurious and profligate man that ever sat in the Presidential chair. He is also the most ambitious, while his political wisdom is certainly greatly over-estimated. But he makes up in part for this by being secret, cunning and remorseless. What he does not know he pretends to know, and what he intends to do no one can give the faintest guess by listening to what he says.

THE San Francisco Call is becoming somewhat addicted to reckless statements. It recently predicted that St. Louis and Chicago would some day become large cities.

THE High School of this city is open to pupils from all parts of the county, free of charge. This is right. The whole county contributes to the support of the school.

Narrow Gauge.

Five years ago the narrow-gauge railroad was a thing hardly ever heard of. Now there are, completed and in running order, 1,445½ miles of this style of road in the United States and Canada. When all the roads at present undergoing construction have been completed 4,562½ miles will be in operation. This does not include roads which are projected, but upon which no work has yet been done. In the matter of safety and speed, the narrow-gauge has more than realized all that was expected of it, while the cost of building, in most cases, has been nearly one-half less than attends the construction of broad-gauge roads.

We hope that their humane efforts will continue to be rewarded, and that by working with the laws and not against them, as Dr. Lewis advises, the liquor traffic may be kept where it now is, pretty much out of sight; and that it will eventually be driven so far out of sight as to be out of the reach of the vicious and the unfortunate.—[Bangor (Me.) CITY AND COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

WEDNESDAY.....JULY 8, 1874.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The Supervisors were in session yesterday as a Board of Equalization.

The Orizaba sails for San Francisco this afternoon. Passengers will take the 4 o'clock train.

No San Francisco mail arrived yesterday, owing to a failure in making connection at Bakersfield.

Professor William Denton, the renowned scientific lecturer and geologist, is stopping at the Clarendon.

Capt. Chas. Thorn of the steamer Senator, with his wife and daughter, spent Monday and Tuesday in this city. They were at the Clarendon.

Mr. John Goller, an old and highly respected citizen, who came to this country in 1849, died at his residence yesterday, after a somewhat protracted illness.

Carmen Lugo, who was recently arrested in San Diego on the charge of murdering a boy on a ranch near this city about a year ago, will be tried in the District Court to-day.

Mr. Griffith, the advance agent of "The Great San Francisco Circus," gave us a call yesterday and informed us that his show will be along soon to give Los Angeles a benefit.

In the U. S. Land Office yesterday the case of Greenwade vs. Duarte was concluded. The case of the State vs. Peter Larson, set for hearing yesterday was continued until the 17th.

Juan Capistran, the man who beat his wife almost to death recently, at San Gabriel, and subsequently made assaults on various other parties, has been arrested and lodged in jail at the Mission.

John Cassidy has resigned the position as telegraph operator at the railroad depot in this city. He was succeeded yesterday by Thos. McCaffery, who resigned his place in the Western Union office to take that vacated by Cassidy.

At the last meeting of the Board of Education the following rates of tuition were agreed upon for pupils living outside of the city: Primary Department, $8 per session of twenty weeks; Intermediate Department, $9; Grammar Department, $10. High School, free for all in the county.

Those wishing baskets and willow-ware should remember the manufactory of Patrick Hoban, on Spring street. Mr. Hoban is recently from the State blind asylum, and is laboring under the misfortune of being partially blind. He is endeavoring to earn a livelihood by this industry and is deserving of the patronage and encouragment of our citizens. His work is of the best quality and is sold below San Francisco prices.

The new savings bank commenced operations yesterday, with the following officers: President, J. S. Slauson; Vice-President, J. M. Griffith. Directors: J. S. Slauson, J. M. Griffin, V. A. Hoover, Robert S. Baker, J. Bixby, H. B. Tichenor, George S. Dodge. We understand that the business of the institution commences with very flattering prospects. One praiseworthy feature of the management is that the bank will be kept open on Saturday evenings from 6 to 8 o'clock.

There will be some trotting and running races at the Agricultural Society's Park on July 23d. Messrs. Askin, Billings and Smith, owners of Rubber Boy and Don Elipho and Mr. James Hurd, manager of Sconchin, have made a sweepstake race, two mile heats, best two in three, to harness, and to rule. The entrance will be $100 each; making $300 to the winner. On the same day Mr. Myers' horse Sleepy Charley will try Bay Jim again for a stake of $300; $150 a side. The cause of this race, we understand, is an honest difference of opinion.

There was a very fair attendance at the auction sale of San Fernando property, by Noyes & Durfee, yesterday. The bidding was quite lively and town lots were disposed of readily at prices ranging from $4.50 to $10 each. A large number of blocks were sold at prices ranging from $280 to $450. Also a number of tracts, one selling as high as $82.50 an acre. Senator Maclay has had much better luck than he anticipated in disposing of the property, and he will probably reserve all of that remaining for this market, making another auction sale next Fall, previous to the meeting of the District Fair.

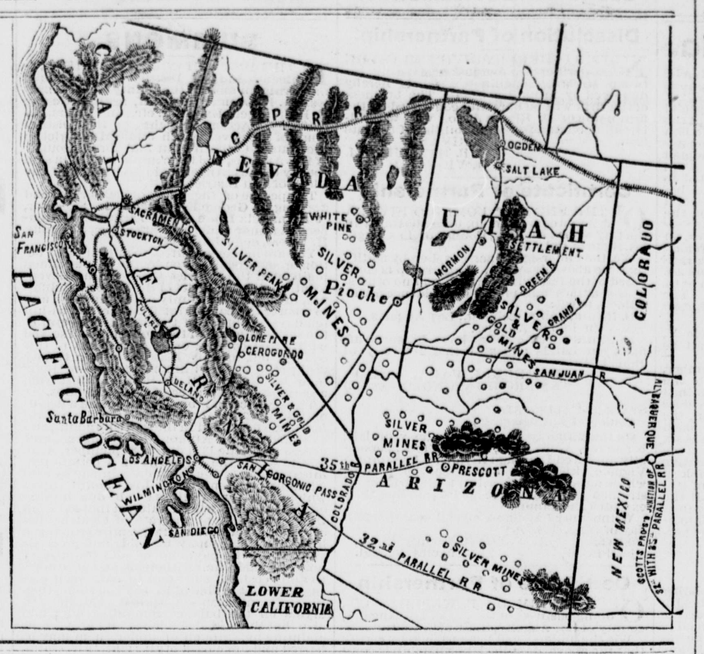

We have before us a little book, entitled, "Arabesques on a California Dinner Table," by Wm. McPherson, recently issued from the Mirror office in this city. The work is printed in pamphlet form, contains eighty pages and has a very creditable typographical appearance. The subject matter comprises three idealistic essays, entitled, "Whom Shall We Choose," "Hilaria," and "Publicity." The writing is profusely illustrated with choice quotations and historical references and is apparently designed to while away a leisure hour without affecting anything profound or startling. Just what the book has to do with California or dinner-tables we cannot see, but suppose that the rose will smell as sweet by this as by any other name.

Professor Denton.

We received a short call yesterday from Prof. Denton, the eminent writer and lecturer on geology and natural history. He intends to commence a series of lectures here on the fifteenth of this month, and our citizens can look for something highly instructive and entertaining in them. His success throughout the State has been marked; and more recently at Santa Barbara he has lectured to full houses for nine evenings in succession. The Index says: "There has been no diminution of the crowd which, throughout the course, has assembled to listen to his lectures here; and we think, from all we hear, his audience would be willing to attend so long as he should be willing to entertain them. The crowd has been so great that many have been unable to obtain seats, and it is suggested by those who seem hardly able to get to the hall early enough, that the crowd commences to assemble in the afternoon. We need hardly say that those who assemble to hear these discourses are among the most intelligent of the people of Santa Barbara. As a lecturer, Prof. Denton stands among the first, and as a student of geology his fame is as broad as the continent.

MAP OF OUR BACK COUNTRY.

Map showing the geographical and commercial position of Los Angeles; the system of Trans-Continental Railroads on the Pacific Coast; the impassable ranges of mountains parallel to the coast north and south of San Gorgonio Pass—the only natural pass in the mountains from Lower California to Oregon; showing also the largest and richest mining region in the world tributary to Los Angeles; showing the proposed railroads to the rich mines of Cerro Gordo and to Salt Lake; also the thirty-fifth and thirty-second parallel routes and their junction at Albuquerque, as proposed by Col. Scott. The names of the following important places in the county are omitted from the map for want of space: Anaheim, population, 1,500; San Gabriel, 200; El Monte, 100; Spadra, 50; Gallatin, 100; Santa Ana, 50; Westminster, 50; Compton, 50; San Fernando, 50; Florence, 50; Tustin City, 50. These are each the nucleus of a rich farming section. It is plain to be seen that Los Angeles county is the representative county of Southern California, and the emporium of Los Angeles county and Southern California is Los Angeles City, centrally located therein; also centrally located in the best valley on the Globe.

Something About Lands.

Mr. James, the Register of the United States Land Office at this place, is frequently in receipt of letters from the East asking the most vague questions in relation to lands in this section. Following a very natural delusion prevalent on the other side of the continent, many people innocently believe that this country is entirely beyond the bounds of civilization—a howling wilderness as it were. And why not? We are over three thousand miles from Boston. As an instance, we here present a letter received by Mr. James a short time since in which the writer wishes to know how near Los Angeles he can secure Government land suitable for orange culture. The gentleman has read just enough about our country to be misled. He has learned that the orange crop is immensely profitable here, paying $1,500 per acre or more; and several other things he has not learned; so he very naturally concludes that if he can purchase land at one dollar and twenty-five cents an acre, which will produce such crops, by a few years cultivation he will have a very good speculation of it. Of course he would. The letter is as follows:

U. S. Land Agent, Los Angeles, California.

DEAR SIR:—Will you please inform me how near to the town of Los Angeles I would be able to locate some land under three or four soldier's land warrants of a quarter section each. My idea is to have as good land as is practicable for the purpose of fruit farming, especially oranges, and as there will probably be three or four families to come, one of which will no doubt reside in the city permanently, it will be desirable to locate the land as near the town as can be done. I have Holt's map of California, showing the arrangement of Government lands, and if you will kindly advise me the nearest and best section to select, you will oblige

Yours, respectfully, ——.

In answer to the gentleman we would say that the public lands of this State are not open to purchase except by actual settlers, and then only in quantities of 160 acres. The gentleman could only make use of his soldiers' warrants after complying with the regular pre-emption law, by settling and improving the land, when each warrant would be taken in payment at its face value, the same as greenbacks. Secondly, there are no Government lands suitable for orange raising within available distance of Los Angeles which can be pre-empted. Such lands were all taken up a number of years ago by men who, fortunately, had their wits about them. Land of that description is now held at from $50 to $100 per acre. Some may be purchased for less, perhaps, in more remote localities, but with the advantage named it seldom brings less than the price stated. With lands of another quality the case is quite different. There is much land in the county which is without irrigating facilities, lying upon the hills and mountains, and suitable only for grazing, that can be bought at a low figure, or even pre-empted from the Government. One hundred and sixty acres of this kind of territory would be almost useless, however, as it requires generally some thousands of acres to make a respectable sheep or cattle range. All things considered, then, the chances for pre-emption are not flattering; but this fact should in no measure discourage immigration to the country. Considering the immense returns from the orange and other semi-tropical fruits, the prices paid for lands that will produce them ($50 or $100 per acre) are very reasonable; especially where near so promising a city as Los Angeles, which now numbers over twelve thousand inhabitants, and aspires in the near future to twenty and then thirty thousand. Grapes are also cultivated here with profit, and many localities which are unsuited for other purposes make the best of vineyards. Such lands can be purchased in various sections of the county at a reasonable figure, say from $5 to $20 an acre. There are still thousands of acres of uncultivated land in this section of the State, waiting only for the industrious farmer to come and improve them, and for his labor he will, in a few years, reap a golden reward. Our country is rapidly filling up with honest, hard-working men, from other parts of the Union. Already our farm products are immense; and with the proper development of our agricultural lands, during a few years to come, they will be beyond all precedent. Our market is almost limitless, as we sell to the whole world, and never go begging for a purchaser.

To the gentleman in Philadelphia, and to all in the East, who have their eyes turned in this direction, then, we will say come to this country. There is room for you here, and a good chance to make money by honest industry.

The new stage line from Spadra to San Bernardino via Riverside commenced making regular tri-weekly trips last Monday.

The Grangers—A Correction.

Several annoying blunders occurred in our report of the Grangers festivities held on the Fourth. Consequently we republish the report this morning, properly corrected, and trust that our friends will allow it to be "never too late to mend:"

After the public exercises were finished the Grange Division re-formed and marched back to Grange Hall, over the Grange Co-operative Company's store, in Leck's building, where the following programme was followed:

Reading of the Farmers' Declaration of Independence by Thomas A. Garey.

Toasts and responses under direction of L. M. Holt, Toast Master, as follows:

"The Ninety-eighth Anniversary of American Independence." Response by Hon. John S. Thompson.

"The Farmers' movement; grand in conception—successful in operation." Response by W. S. Reavis, of Los Nietos.

"The political situation; to be discussed by all good Grangers—outside the gate." Response by J. E. McComas, of Compton.

"The Press—powerful for the right when right; dangerous when wrong." Responded to by John Dolland of Gallatin.

"The Young Ladies—may they join the Grange and become 'Maids,' but may none of them become old maids." R. N. Town of Los Angeles Grange was called upon to respond, but he was not present. Robert Orr of Compton was called upon, but failed to appear.

"The Grange Co-operative Company; five hundred families helping themselves." Response by Rev. A. M. Campbell of Los Angeles Grange.

"Middlemen—a recognized necessity; but we don't want too many of them." J. H. Seymour, General Manager of the Grange Co-operative Company, was called upon to respond, but as he was busy below, Mr. Holt apologized for him in a few remarks regarding the present Grange movement, of which Mr. Seymour was the head.

The exercises here closed and tables were spread, when all helped themselves to the basket-picnic in the hall.

AZUSA.

National Washington Monument—Azusa Grange—Schools.

There is getting to be a lively community at Azusa. Their Grange took time by the forelock in celebrating the Fourth of July on the 3d inst. Over two hundred people were present. The ladies, as they ever do when they feel an interest, appeared remarkably well and displayed much taste in the arrangement of the table. Mr. John T. Gordon delivered the oration. It abounded in felicitous historical allusions, which were duly appreciated. Messrs. W. W. Maxcy and George Wright, having been called out entertained the audience with appropriate remarks. Judge Gordon, in his address, having made a patriotic and stirring all usion to the disgrace of the incompleteness of the National Washington Monument, the Grange, before retiring, adopted the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, The lingering incompleteness of the National Washington Monument, the corner stone of which was laid on the Fourth of July, 1850, is a standing reproach to the degenerate sons of so illustrious a sire—the "Father of his Country," therefore, be it, Resolved—

I. That we, the members of Azusa Grange No. 94, of Los Angeles county, California, agree to make a fund by annual contributions for two years of fifty cents for each member of this Grange, to be called the National Washington Monument Fund.

II. That all subordinate Granges in the United States be invited to co-operate in this movement, in order to raise sufficient money to complete said monument by the 4th of July, 1876.

Good for Azusa! Yet this is no more than might be expected from such an enterprising community. It is scarcely two weeks since its citizens generally turned out to talk up the school question. The unanimous expression was for graded schools, and a special tax for two primary school houses was the result. One gentleman, wealthy in children and grandchildren, said: "I am not worth much; but give us a tax to the utmost limit of the law. I will stand any tax for the sake of getting school houses."

Future success to a people animated by such noble sentiments, is unavoidable. A more inviting climate, soil, water facilities and people cannot be found outside of Azusa.

PIPIFAX.

This remarkable curative herbal preparation is entirely unlike and greatly superior to any other recuperant ever discovered.

It strengthens the living vital nervaure principle, and gives energy to the muscles, nerves, filaments, membranes, and all tissues of the internal organs.

PIPIFAX—Keeps the skin in a supple condition; the cuticle pliant; the pores open; and brings the blood to the surface; thereby enabling the system to counteract these baneful atmospheric influences.

PIPIFAX—Passes through the blood, carries off by prespiration and other excretions the effete and injurious materials of the body. It is soothing, alterative and deferative. Used methodically and rationally, aided by suitable diet, it produces most important changes in the system, contributing to the reconstruction of tissues, and removes vitiated matter which has become not only useless but injurious. No other article has ever been introduced which combines in such an extraordinary degree the principles of an efficient antibilious agent and tonic. Try it and be convinced. may2 3m—20

Hollenbech, Executor, etc., and others, defendants. Action brought in the District Court of the Seventeenth Judicial District of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, and the complaint filed in said county of Los Angeles, in the office of the Clerk of said District Court.

The people of the State of California send greeting to George E. Hollenbech, Executor, etc., Amanda Hollenbech, Elizabeth Hollenbech, a minor under 12 years of age, and John H. Myers, defendants:

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff in the District Court of the Seventeenth Judicial District of the State of California, in and for the county of Los Angeles, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—if served within this county; or, if served out of this county, but in this District, within twenty days; otherwise, within forty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of this Court for the foreclosure of a certain mortgage described in the said complaint, and executed by one Alphonzo Hollenbech, now deceased, on the 13th day of September, A. D. 1872, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note of the same date, made by said Alphonzo Hallenbech in his life-time, upon which there is now alleged to be due the sum of $1,500, gold coin, and interest thereon from December 4, 1872, at the rate of eighteen per cent. per annum; that the premises conveyed by said mortgage may be sold, and proceeds applied to the payment of said promissory note and said interest thereon and attorney's fees and costs of suit; and in case such proceeds are not sufficient to pay the same, then to obtain an execution against said John H. Myers for the balance remaining due; and also that the said defendants and all persons claiming by, through or under them may be barred and foreclosed of all right, title, claim, lien, equity of redemption, and interest in and to said mortgaged premises, and for other and further relief.
